TRAVLIST

Make your customer experience as streamlined as possible with TravList - the smart personal travel assistant

✚ There are two sides of travel:

The traveler's side

Either on business, vacation or to visit friends or relatives, the traveler is most often interested in traveling in the most cost-effective way possible. TravList will serve your travelers as an itinerary management app – catering for all their journey needs in one place, offering your travelers a single place to easily manage all the details of their trips.

The agency side

The travel agents and tour operators eager to satisfy customers and stay competitive by offering premium services. Offering a mobile app to your clients allows you to distinguish yourself from the competition and adds value to your services.

TravList was designed to strengthen the relationships between travelers and travel professionals, forging loyal ties.
